MUR # 6832

To whom it may concern,

I am writing to inform the Federal Election Commission that Grant Lally, candidate for Congress in New York's Third Congressional District is violating election law. His campaign committee number is C00557900.

Upon visiting the www.grantlallyforcongress.com website, I discovered that there is no disclaimer anywhere on the website indicating that the website is paid for by his campaign committee. Enclosed is a screenshot from the website as it appears on May 19, 2014. It is my understanding that this is a clear violation of election law.

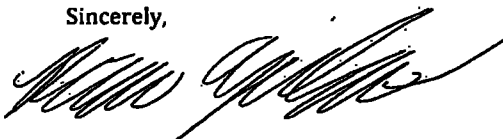

In addition, Mr. Lally has another website for his campaign and again, there is no paid for disclosure anywhere on this site.

Finally, Mr. Lally's campaign has been robo-calling voters in the district. I am in possession of a recording of this call, in which there is no disclaimer saying who has paid for the call.

Mr. Lally seems to think he is above the law and he has learned nothing from his previous violations of Federal Election Commission regulations. Mr Lally was fined $280,000 by the Federal Election Commission for accepting illegal campaign contributions. It is my belief that is still the largest FEC fine levied in history.

Thank you for your prompt attention to this matter and for ensuring all candidates play by the rules.

Sincerely,

Brian Aguilar

Long Island Democratic Rep. Steve Israel has a Republican challenger: Grant Lally a Mincola attorney who has worked on the Bush and McCain presidential campaigns.

Lally, of course, isn't a stranger to running for elected office before. He challenged Democratic Rep. Gary Ackerman in both 1994 and 1996.

Lally worked on the 2000 recount effort on behalf of George W. Bush and is a veteran of Sen. John McCain's 2008 presidential effort.

In a statement, Lally knocked Israel for the federal health care law as well his work as the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee chairman.

"It is time for a change in the 3rd Congressional District. America is a great and good country, and deserves great leadership. In an increasingly competitive world, we need a government dedicated to lower taxes, business-friendly regulations, excellent schools, and world-class health care if we are going to grow and succeed as a nation. Those are my principles and my pledge to my neighbors in the North Shore 3rd Congressional District," Lally said in a statement.
